Role Play

- Scenario: A new anime called Gaigodai Spring has been produced. The anime is set at TUFS and the main character is a student. It is gaining much attention. Fans are beginning to appear uninvited at campus. It is becoming something of a problem!
- Role play: Divide into three groups based on the model showing the three players of contents tourism: fans, local authorities (i.e. university president/leaders), and anime production company.

Role Play

- Preparations: Divide into your three roles. Discuss the arguments you will make based on the role given.
 - Fans: You want access to the “sacred site” (i.e. TUFS campus) and a good contents tourism experience.
 - University Leadership: You must preserve the safety of students and functions of campus as a site of learning.
 - Anime Production Company: You want to take advantage of any financial gains coming from the tourism boom.

Role Play

- Role Play: In new groups, find a compromise plan for the management of anime-related tourism at TUFS campus. During the debate, present your own position forcefully, but ultimately the aim is to reach a compromise.
- Summary: Report from each group. Discussing your compromise solution.
